REPORT OF MADERO KILLING CONFIRMED

City of Mexico, March 1.—Official announcement of the killing of Emilio Madero, brother of the former president of Mexico reported several times recently, was contained today in a dispatch from Ambassador Wilson, who reported Madero shot while leading a rebel force in the Northern States. This brings the death list of Maderos in the recent Mexican troubles up to three.

No confirmation has been received of the reported death of Raoul Madero another brother.

Conditions in Southern Mexico, Ambassador Wilson reports, seem rapidly to be improving. The Governor of Yucatan, brother-in-law to former Vice President Suarez, is reported to have advised the Huerta Government of his submission, as have the governors of Tabasco, Oaxaca and Campeche.

The Consul at Nogales, reporting Maderista activities in Eastern Sonora says a band of rebels is gathering to oppose the Huerta government. Reporting the burning of fifteen bridges on the Mexican Central Railway north of Torreon, the consul at Durango says there is a rumor that Campa's rebel band of 1,200 shortly will lay down arms.

No Longer Governor Wilson.

Trenton, N. J., March 1.—President-elect Wilson ceased to be governor of New Jersey today, when his resignation of the office came into effect and he was succeeded automatically by James F. Fielder, president of the state senate. Mr. Wilson will spend tomorrow in taking leave of old friends here and in completing the preparations for removal to Washington. The hour of departure for the national capital has been fixed for 11 o'clock Monday morning. The party will arrive in Washington at 4 p. m. In the evening the President-elect will attend a smoker to be given in his honor by the Princeton alumni association of the District of Columbia. Mr. Wilson and his family will pass the night at the Shoreham Hotel as guests of Mr. Wilson's cousin, John E. Wilson of Franklin, Pa.

J. W. Simpkins and W. M. Waldrop of Mill Creek were Ada visitors today. Mr. Waldrop is the telephone man of Mill Creek.

OVER OBJECTION OF PRESIDENT

SENATE OVERRIDES VETO OF WEBB BILL—QUICK ACTION SECURED—HOUSE NEXT.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The Webb liquor bill prohibiting the shipment of liquor into "dry" states was repassed in the senate today over President Taft's veto within two hours from the time the President's message of disapproval had been laid before that body.

A short debate, in which the advocates of the bill voted down a motion to postpone action until tomorrow, and in which they reaffirmed their belief that the measure is constitutional, ended with the repassage of the bill by the large majority of 63 to 21.

The Webb bill passed both houses of congress and went to the president ten days ago. His veto message reached the senate about 3 o'clock today, accompanied by an opinion from Attorney General Wickersham. Basing his decision upon the Attorney General's findings, the president expressed the belief that the measure was clearly unconstitutional because it gave the states the right to interfere with interstate commerce.

The Senate took up the bill at once. Attorney General Wickersham's opinion was not read, and Senator Kern asked that a final vote on the over-riding of the veto be delayed until tomorrow, so senators might have the opportunity to examine the attorney general's arguments. A motion made by Mr. Kern to postpone the vote until 12 o'clock tomorrow was defeated, 71 to 9.

Senator McCumber declared both the president and the attorney general had misconstrued the grounds upon which congress had passed the prohibition law. He said it had not attempted to give the states the right to interfere with commerce, but simply declared liquor an outlaw and had then prescribed conditions under which it might enter interstate commerce. Senator Kenyon also briefly urged repassage of the bill, while Senators Paynter and Percy advocated support of President Taft's veto.

Hero Medal for Capt. Roston.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—After having received substantial money gifts and other tokens of esteem and gratitude from the people of the United States and Great Britain, Captain Arthur H. Roston of the Cunard liner Carpathia today received the official testimonial of the United States government. In the East Room of the White House at 2 o'clock this afternoon President Taft presented to the heroic Captain the gold medal awarded to him by Congress for distinguished conduct in the rescue of the survivors of the Titanic disaster. The presentation was made in the presence of a distinguished gathering that included diplomats, senators and others.

Rival Delegations from Louisiana

New Orleans, La., March 1.—Two special trains carrying rival delegations of Louisiana Democrats to the Wilson inauguration leave this city tonight for Washington. The Governor's special has been engaged by Governor Luther E. Hall and a large party of friends, while the "Mayor's special will carry Mayor Martin E. Behrman and many of his political followers. The governor and mayor represent rival factions in state and city politics, but both are democrats. Governor Hall has promised to ride a horse in the inaugural parade.

CHANGE IN OWNERSHIP OF CUSHING BANK

Guthrie, Okla., March 1.—Ned Holman, president of the First National bank of this city, with P. A. Norris Ada, has purchased an interest in the Farmers State bank of Cushing. The bank has been nationalized with a capital of $25,000, under the name of the Farmers National bank, Mr. Holman being vice president of the institution under the new management. The deposits of this bank have increased from $50,000 to about $130,000 within the past six months, since the oil industry became so prominent a factor in the life of that town.

FARRIS WILL NOT CONTEND FOR OFFICE

Oklahoma City, Ok., Feb. 28.—Giles W. Farris, the former State Printer, whose impeachment as preferred by the House of Representatives was sustained by the Senate Wednesday, will make no attempt to hold the office under the theory that the state had no authority to impeach the state printer. This notice was conveyed to the senate sitting as a court of impeachment by Senator Thomas, chairman of the special committee directed yesterday to run down the reports that Farris would stick in the face of the senate's action.

A formal statement in writing was presented to the court by Farris, in which he declared he did not intend to be in contempt of the senate, merely ly desiring to preserve his civil rights and that the office would be surrendered as soon as his successor was named, and he received the notice.

"In conclusion permit me to say," read the statement, "That I am leaving this office without one penny of the people's money, and if under a mistaken notion of the law I have committed an impeachable offense, I shall in private life seek to regain my shattered name and fortune."

The court took an adjournment until next Friday, unless sooner convened by order of the senate. Friday is the last of the sixty-day period of the session. A resolution presented by Senator Vandeventer was adopted by the senate expressing thanks to the body to Chief Justice Hayes, who presided during the impeachment hearings.

Notice of the senate's action in the Farris case was sent by special messenger to Gov. Cruce, and a copy of the judgment which the senate approved was transmitted to the secretary of state's department for filing. W. M. Erwin of Pauls Valley is the new state printer.

HIS TROUBLE NOT OF HEART

Real Facts In Regard To F. R. Huffman's Illness, Relief Obtained By Curing His Stomach Ailments.

Waynesville, N. C.—Mr. F. R. Huffman, of this city, says: "I suffered dreadfully with what I thought was heart trouble, and tried various medicines in vain.

After other remedies had failed, Theodor's Black-Draught restored me to health. I would not feel safe without Black-Draught in the house. I consider it worth its weight in gold.

It cured my indigestion, and by this means I was restored to health. I can not express my gratitude for its benefits."

Good health depends on the condition of your digestion. Poor digestion and good health do not go together.

Theodor's Black-Draught will thoroughly cleanse and set in order your digestive system.

It has done this for others, during the past 70 years, and is today the most popular vegetable liver remedy on the market. Try it.

Insist on Theodor's. Price 25c.

Jules Roche, the French statistician warns his countrymen that a European war would be an expensive luxury. He says that the Franco-German war cost about $1,665,000 a day and that today a general mobilization would cost about $1,000,000,000 for the first two months, with a minimum of $6,000,000 a day after two months. This would cover the bare military expenses for 20,000,000 men, but the actual cost would be vastly greater, seeing that commerce and agriculture would come at once to a standstill.

RECORD CROWD TO GREET WILSON

Washington, D. C., March 1.—Preparations for the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson and Thomas R. Marshall, the first Democratic President and Vice President that the country has had in sixteen years, are complete and the various committees make the prophecy that the ceremonies of next Tuesday will be the most brilliant and picturesque of any previous inaugural event. Prediction is made also that when Mr. Wilson and Mr. Marshall ride down Pennsylvania avenue on the way to the capitol to take the oath of office the greatest crowd that ever welcomed an incoming President and Vice President will shout itself hoarse.

The inaugural committee has used every means in its power to make the celebration one that will live in the minds of all who witness it for years to come. In point of brilliance of decoration, in the matter of the inaugural parade, in the arrangements for the illumination of the city and a display of fireworks Tuesday night it is believed that the Wilson and Marshall inauguration will surpass all others.

The inaugural ball will be the only customary feature left out of the program and this will not be missed by the general public. The ball was dispensed with at the special request of the president-elect, who asked the committee in charge of the ceremonies to make the entire celebration as simple as possible and at the same time as impressive and dignified as the inauguration of a president of the great republic demands.

The rush of visitors into the capital began in earnest today. The most of those already on hand are the experienced ones, who desire to get comfortably settled before the high tide is reached. They know what it is to arrive in Washington in the midst of confusion the day before inauguration, when bands are playing in the railroad station and in the hotel lobbies, when it is next to impossible to get a cab and when all the street cars become "stand-as-you-ride" cars. The inexperienced are waiting until later, when they will pay for their experience as all strangers in a crowded city do on the occasion of their first visit.

It is going to be a splendid inauguration, providing the weather clerk does his duty. History shows that the majority of inauguration days have been abominable, but everybody is hoping that Mr. Wilson may have luck.

But no misfortune in weather can chill the ardor of the Democratic hosts any more than a blizzard or rain-storm will be able to mar the most important feature of the inauguration, the illumination of the city. The illumination of the capital by means of millions of electric lamps promises to be a show in itself. Pennsylvania avenue from the capitol to the Treasury will resemble a fairytland. At 100-foot intervals the avenue has been arched with festoons of light. From each festoon there are three pendant colored lights, which give the broad thoroughfare the appearance of being roofed with brilliant, glowing bulbs. The court of honor opposite Lafayette Park and the Union station plaza are also the centres of brilliant schemes of illumination. At night a big searchlight is to play on the capitol, making it visible for miles around. There also will be lighting effects on the Washington monument and on all the prominent public buildings.

Major Sylvester, the superintendent of police, issued his final instructions today. Among other things, he directs that the entire route of the parade be roped off with iron cables and cleared of all vehicles before 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Beginning Monday morning every available officer and private of the regular police force will be on duty and more than 500 special policemen have been employed.

A considerable number of detectives have been brought here from outside cities to assist the local force in protecting the public from the army of pickpockets and other crooks who always flock here for the great quadrennial harvest. As a further means of protection a unique campaign of publicity has been inaugurated by Major Sylvester. In the railroad stations, the lobbies of all the big hotels and in many other public places throughout the city large placards bearing miniature photographs of about 500 well known thieves, principally pickpockets, have been hung conspicuously on the walls so that all may familiarize themselves with the faces of the crooks and be in a position to cause their arrest on sight.

The street fairs are in evidence as usual. They are here in force from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and from points as far distant as Chicago. Hundreds of them may be seen wandering up and down Pennsylvania avenue with souvenirs to sell. Their wares consist principally of Crockett Daggs, Mart Lancaster and Jim Rogers, held on an indictment in connection with the killing of Mrs. Lon Harrison near Knox, have filed habeas corpus proceedings in the district court. The hearing will probably be held Tuesday.

IMPRISONED MEN SEEK HABEAS CORPUS

The jury in the suit of Jackson vs the Frisco railroad for damages on account of two shipments of cattle, returned a verdict in favor of the railroad. Today the court has been occupied with a triangular case arising from a dispute over a gin at Center formerly the property of J. H. Hance, who is now in California. The Air Blast Gin Co., some citizens of Center and the First National Bank of Stratford all have claims against the property and it is now up to the court to determine whose claim is valid.

There will be no court Monday. Judge McKeown will be in Wewoka on that date to open court, but will return and continue the term here for some days.

JUDGE BARNEY HAS A KICK COMING

The list of names of members of the Ada Commercial club published in Friday's paper did not contain the name of Judge C. T. Barney, it having been overlooked in some manner. The judge was one of the first signers of a membership card and certainly has a kick coming because his name was omitted. The News would really like to have more kicks of this kind.

Good Care of the Hair - - Makes all Women Fair

Hair—natural, snappy, well kept hair is woman's greatest beauty. The hair first attracts attention. Nice, clean, fluffy hair, growing on the head it adorns, makes for personal charm more than a clear complexion, regular features or a handsome gown. Beautiful hair, which commands admiration everywhere, is almost always associated with the use of that

Well Known Scalp Prophylactic Newbro's Herpicide

The worst enemy of good hair is dandruff caused by an invisible microbe growth or germ. Herpicide used intelligently destroys this germ, removes the dandruff and thus prevents further loss of hair. It imparts life, luster and luxuriance which constitute hair beauty. There is a subtle and delicate clearness about Herpicide that never offends but appeals to everyone. Herpicide contains no grease and does not stain or dye. The itching which indicates dandruff, usually stops almost at once. There is no need for anyone to be deceived by other preparations that have adopted our advertising claims. You can avoid possible disappointment by insisting upon having genuine Herpicide long known as the Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer.

FADS AND FASHIONS

New York, March 1—One of the most popular new materials last Autumn was velor de laine, a soft, silky wollen tissue. Later in the season it was displaced by the new satins and silks, but it is now predicted that velor de laine as well as drap de laine will be extremely popular during the coming spring. Both materials are amenable to draping and both are becoming because of their soft surface. All colors look well in these materials, and those in-bordeaux and yellows are especially attractive. The popularity of these yellows is really astonishing. Every piece of stuff seems a shade different. All are seductive save the sulphur; and in satin, and worn by a black-haired woman, even this is not without virtue.

Cifron is a shade that will go into early spring, also suede. Such tones as chalk, putty and oyster have been modish a long time, but they may be continued through another season, since the fashion dealers appear to have exhausted the whole range of colors. Black was their refuge three years ago, but now with the black are colors, and without doubt the dyers are in despair. But they have never been found wanting and probably shades to be shown next month will differ only slightly from those we have been seeing.

The latest styles show dresses with plain tunie in front and draped back, or vice versa. The draping is flat and does not look at all out of place in front. Just so it cuts the figure bias, or straight up and down, that is all that is necessary. It is predicted that all the dressy afternoon costumes of satin or silk for Spring wear would have the little train like that of the evening dress this winter. The idea is pretty and extremely graceful, but it is impractical in a frock if one thinks of wearing it on the street.

Fashion experts say that crepe de chine, after a long absence, will return to favor during the coming season. The material is soft and clinging, qualities so eminently suited to the modes of the moment that it is a wonder the designers of fashions have not called it into service long before this. Taffetas will not be fashionable, although they show some wonderful effects in colors. But the material does not drape prettily, and even the most supple quality has a way of standing out from the figure which interferes with the silhouette.

A new brown yellow, that is beautiful in any material, is that of Oriental tobacco, a rich, brilliant dye that arrived during the winter. It is of course much lighter than havanna brown. Yet has the same general tone. This is nothing more than a soft, deep gold, something like old-fashioned tan, yet with more yellow. The Oriental tobacco is superb in velvet, also in satin and crepe de chine. It does not go well with other combinations, however.

The very simple effect of blouses and corsages will be modified during the coming Spring season and embroidery will be used, not much, but enough to make a change and have things look new. The Grecian effects will be repeated both in afternoon and evening gowns, which means that drapery will be used as much as ever. Where draping is not employed, tiny knife plaits will run straight up and down, in the center of the back and front. Sometimes even with these plaits drapery will fall to at least one side. Corseted as the fashionable woman is, the designer may now loop goods on her form to his hearts content, and this he sure will continue to do.

Poplin in silk, in wool, in cotton—any kind of poplin, in fact promises to be much used. There are plain poplins and moire poplins and brocaded poplins, and one often finds at least two of these varieties combined in the same costume. Other material to be in demand for elaborate street or afternoon semi-tailored costumes are silk whip-cord, heavy bengaline, and the still heavier "soine regence." In all of these there is a conspicuous use of buttons, of which there is an avalanche this season, showing the greatest variety and originality. Among the wool materials appropriate for the simpler tailored suit, the real costume trotteur, there are serges, Bedford cords, new weaves of whipcords, poplins, ratines, drap de lane, an some other less exploited varieties from which to choose.

An over blouse affords a clever way of introducing the skirt material in the blouse to a coat suit. Often the material is too heavy to be used for the entire waist, but if the over blouse is developed in the cloth the underwaist of sheer or chiffon or silk voile gives a dainty and light effect.

Often the underwaist is of sheer batiste or white net, which can be laundered when soiled, and sometimes the over blouse is not attached to the skirt, so that it can be worn on bleak, chilly days, when such addition is a decided comfort. The little square shoulder yoke often appears in back as well as in front.

Ribbon will play an important part in the new millinery in the shape of crown bands, streamers, chip loops, bows, ear loops and quill effects in satin, gailie, moire and taffeta weaves. Rose, stem and foliage are seen made of pleated edges moire ribbon in the exact shade of the skin of a Bermuda onion. Large pompons are formed of a compact mass of ribbon loops and finished with a jetted stem. These are placed either in the center front or at the side of a draped turban or other small hat, or else poised over the brim-edge of a large hat.

Large sprawling bows are either spread across the back of a hat crown or are disposed in erect fan effect. Long wired ribbon loops dart from a tight ribbon knot, a conical base of flowers or other ornament, and extend from the side far beyond the back of a hat brim. When velour ribbon is used, the raised pattern is frequently cut out and applied flatly to satin, taffeta or heavy crepes. Floral designs in ribbons are rich and dainty in coloring, Watteau effects, pompadour designs and gorgeous Oriental motifs are prominent. Tapestry and jovy effects in cap designs of flowers and vines, on backgrounds of satin, faille and lustrous moire. Bulgarian patterns will be in favor. Most of them are taffetas with pocol, loop, crown and eord finish.

Colored beads are used in embroidering heavy, dull colored silks. For instance, the girdle or belt of a gown of heavy gray silk is embroidered in gray, bright blue, bottle green, yellow and cerise beads, which are put on in a big stiff design suggesting sprays of flowers. This use of bright beads gives the touch of color which is wanted to make a dull gown look right.

New parasols for southern use show turned-back edges, suggestive of the turn-back brim of a hat, which are faced with a pinked silk ruching the color of the parasol.

The angle of the feather is now very important; it makes for chicness or an unfashionable effect.

Wan, Weary and Worn Out

If You Feel Fagged to a Finish and Utterly Used Up Here is Quick Relief.

Don't Be Chained to the Hitching Post of Wearyland.

Half the people you meet complain of weary muscles, stagnant brain, jangled nerves, and a mournful desire to lay down and just quit. Most of these people have been using nervines that spasmodically flare up the nerves only to die down again, as die they must. Avoid nerve stimulants. Bear in mind that this worn out feeling is due to poor blood, bacteria in the water you drink; to the multiplying of destructive germs in the blood faster than they can be overcome by the white corpuscles; and to what is known as auto-toxemia, that condition where the venous or impure blood accumulates faster than it can be replaced by the red arterial blood.

If you feel played out go to any drug store and ask for a bottle of S. S. S., Swift's Sure Specific. Here is a remedy that gets at work in a twinkling; it just naturally rushes right into your blood, scatters germs right and left, up and down and sideways.

You feel better at once, not from a stimulant, not from the action of drugs, but from the rational effect of a natural medicine just as active and just as timely as to a man who has been lost in the mountains, is about starved and comes across a settler just cooking a savory meal of good honest beef. Do not neglect to get a bottle of S. S. S. today. It will make you feel better in just a few minutes. It is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Send for their free book telling of the many strange conditions that afflict the human family by reason of impoverished blood.

ing upon 150,000 visitors next Tuesday, when Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, will succeed William H. Taft, Republican, as President of the United States and Thomas R. Marshall will take the office of Vice President.

The programme arranged for the pageant and ceremony is virtually the same as that of other inaugurations of recent years. The two big features of the day will be the induction of the President and Vice President into office at the Capitol and the parade that will follow these ceremonies.

The programme for the ceremonies that are to accompany the swearing in of the President and Vice President starts the days ceremonies with the inauguration of the Vice President in the Senate Chamber. Immediately after Mr. Marshall takes on the title of Vice President, the persons admitted to the Senate chamber will proceed to the out door stand on the east front of the Capitol, where Mr. Wilson will take the oath of office and from which he will deliver his inaugural address. Then the marchers will fall in line and the parade up Pennsylvania Avenue will begin.

Rivaling in public interest the inauguration parade of Tuesday will be Suffrage parade and pageant on the preceding day. Committees that have been at work for weeks on arrangements for the suffrage parade believe that the demonstration will be the most remarkable ever seen in any country in advancement of a cause. The parade down Pennsylvania avenue will be in five divisions and will include representatives of equal suffrage organizations in every state. Many floats and picturesque features will be included. While the parade is passing there will be given an elaborate pageant on the steps of the Treasury building, illustrating the birth and progress of the battle of women for the franchise.

Training Outweighs Long Service

There is no better proof of this than the every-day scenes of long service, untrained employees at the beck and call of younger men who occupy the big positions because of their training. It's a case of Training vs. Long Service—with the odds in favor of the trained man.

Get out of the untrained rut. Mark and mail the attached coupon and let the I. C. S., of Scranton, tell how you can qualify for a better position. How you can protect yourself against servitude in your old age. How you can become an expert at your chosen line of work.

That the business of the I. C. S. is to Raise Salaries is shown by the monthly average of 300 letters voluntarily written by students reporting salaries raised and advancement won through I. C. S. help. No necessity for leaving home. No books to buy. Marking the coupon puts you to no expense and places you under no obligation. Mark it NOW.
